So, you have found yourself single again. I know when you are single, it feels like everyone is in a relationship. This is actually not true. What this means is you need to get out more often. This is how you will meet single people, that you could potentially date.

If you are going to date, then you should date with a purpose. What are your expectations. Are you looking for someone that will open your door, hold your hand, and pay for the date? Or, do you just want someone to hang out with?

The bottom line is that whatever you want from a dating relationship needs to be crystal clear to you before you start or else, you could end up sending out the wrong message and attracting the wrong kind of guy.

Sometimes, great men come into your life and it's hard to tell if he has the potential to give you what you're looking for.

Here are the bonafide 25 signs that a man is a good catch and you ought to go out on a date with him.

1. He is genuinely interested in you, and he is not just looking for a fling.
2. He respects you for the person you are.
3. He has taken the time to pursue you.
4. He isn't dating, because he feels lonely.
5. He doesn't have a secret relationship with someone else.
6. He is focused and he knows where he would like to be, in the next 5 or so years.
7. He likes to communicate. He doesn't expect you to read his mind.
8. He will watch a romantic comedy with you, and you know he's really not that into that kind of a movie.
9. He likes to spend time with you.
10. He likes your career and doesn't feel intimidated by it.
11. He thinks fondly of you when he is not with you. You know this because he hints around it.
12. He's not judgemental.
13. He doesn't say negative things about women.
14. He has told you at least one of his life's dreams.
15. He's knows there is more than sex to a relationship.
16. He likes it when you ask him questions.
17. He asks you questions about your day, and knows at least one important thing that is happening in your life.
18. He hasn't shown any signs that he is a jealous person.
19. He gets along with his family, and has good things to say about them.
20. He made plans for the first date, based on your likes and dislikes.
21. You look forward to talking to him and seeing him.
22. You are attracted to him.
23. He listens to your opinions and takes them seriously.
24. You don't feel like he is manipulating you.
25. He's not a workaholic, or relies on any type of substance.

These 25 things to look for in a guy before you date him, may sound simple, but they test your compatibility with him. Don't be afraid to ask him questions or say what you are looking for. When dating, you need to be true to yourself. If you aren't, you will end up feeling resentful.

You have to believe that the perfect guy for you is out there. You also can't expect him to fall from the sky and land on your doorstep. You need to get out there and date. This means you will have to set aside time for dating. How many hours a week are you willing to put into it?

I want you to think about this list. What is most important to you? Feel free to add some things, if you think I left something out.

If you've made it this far, then I want to thank you for taking the time to read my book. I'm glad you think enough of yourself to make an investment in the dating game.
